Secretary F. R. Conaway of the Iowa Commission has reported to President Francis that 9,713 Iowans have registered Francis that 9,713 lowans have registered at their State building since the opening of the Fair, April 30, to July 8. Mr. Conaway states that no special effort has been made to have people register, and the number stated is simply a small proportion of those visiting the building. Maintaining but one register, it has been impossible for all Iowa people who desired to register on Iowa and excursion days to secure access to the book to record their names. On opening day 103 Iowans registered, 1,821 in May, 6,413 in June and 1,635 for the first eight days in July. It is a matter of gratification to President Larrabee and the Iowa Commission that the growth has been so steady and regular.

An official tour of inspection of exhibits An omenal tour of inspection of exhibits from Montana in the various departments was made yesterday by the Montana Commission. AROUND WHEEL ON TOP OF CAR. Woman Will Repeat Hazardous Trip

To-Morrow Afternoon.
The unique distinction of being the only woman in the world to rice on the roof of a car of the Ferris Wheel for an enof a car of the Ferris Wheel for an en-tire revolution of the wheel, belongs to Mrs. Macde Nicholaun, who is now vis-lting the World's Fair. This feat is all the more remarkable when it is under-steed that Mrs. Nicholson is not an acro-hat, slack-wire walker or allied in any sense to a professional occupation. She is simply a cheerful little housewife, who performed the hazardous exploit because she was dared.

performed the intrartious exploit because the was fared.

of Mrs. Schafer. No. 239 Washington avenue, in this city, and will remain here for ten days.

It was on Caicago Day, October 2, 1873, at the columnian Exposition, that Mrs. Nicholean went to the Ferris Wheel inclosure and purchased a ticket, intending to ride on the famous mechanical masterplese. She was accompanied by her husband and L. V. Rire, a construction engineer, who is well known in St. Louis.

Mrs. Nicholean looked at the immense stretch of from work reaching 285 feet in the air and laughingly said she would like to ride on the outside. Mr. Rice bonteringly dared her to take the journey on the roof of one of the cars. The wheel had stopped to take on and let off passengers and without a moment's hesitation the plucky little woman clambered to the top of the car, using the iron rocks protecting the windows as steps. Both men followed her and throughout the entire trip of 285 feet from the earth's surface to the extreme limit which the wheel travels and back, the brave woman stood erect.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson called at the office of Manager Harris on the Ferris Wheel grounds, and the matter of the momentous ride was incidentally referred to. She laughingly narvated her experience while slowly revolving in the air on the immense wheel, and declared she felt as sefe on the roof of the car as in standing on the floor of her own home, Manager Harris dared her to repeat the feat, Mrs. Nicholson stated that if fair weather prevailed Monday afternoon she would take the trip at 4:39 oclock. Photographs will be taken of the nervy little woman when the car reaches the summit of the wheel.

Captain Hindon has a record better ap-preciated by the British than any other man who has fought on the side of the Boers. He was so much wanted by the British during the last twelve months of the war that a heavy price was set on his head.

was to blow up British trains, thereby gathering a large amount of supplies at different times, besides causing a large loss of life to the British.

Hindon is the man who nearly captured Lord Kitchener on January 2, 1891, when Kitchener was running down through the Free State on an armored train.

The method adopted by Hindon in blowing up the line was to place a rifle in connection so that a train passing would fire the rifle into several sticks of dynamite, causing a terrific explosion. This mode of warfare was regarded by many as barbarous, many lives being lost by the British.

Hindon, knowing that a price was set on his head, three days before peace was staned, sent to Lord Kitchener, under the white flag, and asked what would be done with him when peace was signed. Kitchener said that as soon as he could be captured he would be shot. Hindon pointed out to Lord Kitchener that the British had blown up several of the Boer trains at the heginning of the war, and after some deliberation Lord Kitchener granted Captain Hindon the amnesty of the Transvan.

A Conan Doyle in his book on South Africa refers often to "Dynamite Hindon," whom he appears to regard as a very desperate character.

Francis Jerome, one of the mechanics who accompanied Santos-Dumont from Paris for the purpose of assisting in assembling the famous aeronaut's airship No. 7, yesterday received a letter from Mr. Santos, mailed just previous to his sailing for Paris with the mutilated hydrogen bag which was cut to pieces previous to the flight which the aeronaut was to make on July 4.

Mr. Jerome is in charge of the other parts of No. 7, which are stored in the aerodrome, on the Aeronautic Concourse, until the return of Santos-Dumont from his flying trip to Paris made for the purpose of repairing the silken hydrogen bag which was put out of commission two weeks ago.

In the letter Mr. Santos gave some directions as to how the parts left behind should be taken care of, and cauffoned the three men who accompanied him to exercise great care and vigilance lest harm should come to the other parts of No. 7. In the letter the aeronaut said be would return to the World's Fair and regame preparations for contesting for the grand $100,000 aeronautic prize as soon as it was possible to repair the rents in the bag.

Only the silken bag was taken to Parls by Santos-Dumont. Mr. Santos estimates that it will require about six weeks for him to make the trip to Parls, set his balloon repaired and return to the World's Fair, While he is gone his three assistants will remain at the World's Fair and get everything in readiness for the flight which Santos-Dumont will make as soon as he returns with his airship repaired.

RADIOPHONE ON EXHIBITION

Speech Transmitted Without Use of Wires or Intervening Medium. The exhibit of a radiophone transmitting and receiving station, made jointly by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the General Electric Company, is pany and the General Electric Company, is proving one of the most attractive exhibits in the Palace of Electricity.

The radiophone is a combination of an are light, reflectors, and what is known as a selemium cell. By its means speech is transmitted to distant points without the use of wires or other such intervening medium, the translation taking place over a beam of light furnished by the are and projected in a slender beam by a parabolic reflector.

By this means Ernst Ruhmer, the noted German physicist, has succeeded in transmitting speech a distance of fifteen miles. A former army busiler, who served under General Joe Wheeler, sounds the various bugle calls in the transmitter booth, and these are received with remarkable volume and clearness in the receiver. The public is condible in the transmitted to impact the public is cordially invited to inspect this exhibit and listen to the bugling, which takes place at the following periods: 10 to 10:15 and 11 to 11:15 a. m., 12 to 12:15, 1 to 11:15, 2 to 2:15, 3 to 3:15, 4 to 4:15 and 5 to 5:15 p. m. As an example of the interest which this exhibit is attracting it may be stated that an average of 650 visitors per day, or about 4:000 per week, take advantage of this opportunity to hear sounds transmitted a distance of 500 feet over a ray of light.

his representatives had sailed from Russia for St. Louis.

The two representatives are Messrs Godberg and Berkovits. They sail on the steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm and are expected to reach St. Louis within a fortnight.

Although nothing definite has been heard from the Russian exhibit to be made at St. Louis, it is supposed that it is now on the way and that the visit of the two Commissioners is for the purpose of attending to its installation.

It was expected by the Division of Exhibits that the Russian exhibit would have been installed by now, but because of the very late moment at which the Russian exhibitions determined upon an unofficial participation in the World's Fair. Mr. Skiff is disposed to believe that the display is being made as expeditiously as possible.

nally when a man cannot get away. Lit-

There is a way to take a vacation gradually when a man cannot get away. Little suburban trips in the afternoon and to the seashore at night when you are tired give rest and change when they are mest needed. You have a special relish for a trip then it is like eating when you are hungry instead of sitting down to the table and nibbling at food because it is meal time.

A great many people are forced to take their vacations when they are not specially in used of them, and the two weeks or more do less good than a few days would if taken at the right time. Ordinarily an afternoon once a week will tide a man over the whole summer if he can take the holitary just when he needs it. It's on the same principle when he goes to hed some nights earlier than others because he is tired and needs the extra amount of rest.

There is no reason for taking a vacation by rule, and there are no set rules to give to promote the enjoyment of one; but certainly suggestions can be offered that will show people how to make the most of whatever outing they are fortunate enough to get.

DOMESTIC TRADE REPORTS INDICATE LESS DEMAND.

Some Commercial Activities, However, Continue to Increase Vol-

Washington, July 9.-Domestic trade movements covering the first five months of the current year are reported in the monthly summary of internal commerce for May by the Department of Commerce and Labor, through its Bureau of Statis-tics. The figures of representative movements indicate that there has, with proper exceptions, been an evident decrease in the consuming demands of the country. On the other hand, some leading commercial activities continue to maintain an inparison with the corresponding periods of 1962.
This is the case with live-stock receipts.
